Sunray Publishing Solutions and Services

Sunray Publishing can offer a truly unique opportunity for every author. When you submit your manuscript to Sunray Publishing Solutions a number of very exciting things can happen. Depending on the quality of your manuscript, your goals, your budget, the genre of your book and the niche your story falls into, we can offer:

- Print on Demand
- Self Publishing
- Custom Publishing
- Manuscript Critique

Print on Demand

If you wish to order only 100 books - we offer Print on Demand capabilities. Your book is digitally produced, perfect bound and shipped directly to you.

Self Publishing

When the decision is made that your manuscript will not be commercially published (completely subsidized by the publisher), self publishing offers authors an excellent avenue for authors to manufacture and sell their work. In conjunction with our marketing materials and internet sales package, many authors have found this a successful way to get their book into the hands of the buying public. 100% of the profits are yours!

Partner Publishing

Does your book have broad market appeal? Sunray Publishing can edit, manufacture and place your book with a bonafide national book wholesaler, retailers and in some cases book distributors. With this program you will receive a quantity of books to market just as you would if your book were self published. Sunray Publishing will also produce a limited quantity of books which we market nationally and sell for profit. From these books you will receive a royalty.

Manuscript Critique

Want to know how your manuscript stacks up? Use our professional critiquing service. For all submissions, Sunray Publishing Solutions offers a professional critique of your manuscript.

All critiques are done by experienced authors / editors who will read your work and prepare a thorough, straightforward and honest written report.

We evaluate the clarity and style of writing and the development of the subject. Is the manuscript well organized? Is the story fully developed? Is it clear and easily understood? How is the writing style?

But we don't stop at commenting on needed improvements. We recommend specific ways in which your manuscript can be modified.

AS A BONUS, we include an assessment of the probability that a publisher will purchase your work once it is put into finished form suitable for submission. Again, the assessment of commercial potential also is straightforward and honest. Our fee is based on the length of the manuscript. For your guidance, the average fee is $500 for our critique.
